Chief Executive Celebrates EMBA Ranking

The Honorable Donald Tsang, Chief Executive of the Hong Kong SAR and Chancellor of the Hong Kong University of Science and Technology (HKUST), celebrated the world number 2 ranking of the University's joint Executive MBA program with the Kellogg School of Management, Northwestern University, at a ceremony held on campus today (11 November 2005).

The ranking was announced by the London Financial Times newspaper in its 2005 list of the World's leading EMBA programs, published 24 October.

Renowned as a world-class program in a world-class city, the Kellogg-HKUST EMBA is based here in Hong Kong. The FT ranks it number 1 in the world for the international diversity of its students, and number 3 in the world for the international diversity of its faculty.

FT rankings are among the most respected indicators of business school program quality. The University's 2nd place represents a sustained climb, from 9th place in the London-based newspaper's 2003 rankings and 6th place in 2004.

Guests joining Mr Tsang at the ceremony included Chairman of the University Council, Dr John C C Chan, Vice-Chairman of the University Council, Dr Marvin K T Cheung, University President, Prof Paul Chu, Vice-President for Academic Affairs, Prof Yuk-Shee Chan, Dean of Business and Management, Prof K C Chan, Associate Dean and Program Director Prof Steven DeKrey, and Kellogg Senior Associate Dean, Prof Robert Korajczyk.

Prior to the ceremony, Mr Tsang attended the University's 13th Congregation in his capacity of University Chancellor.
